

The wisconsin no-call law was agreed upon by the majority of the residents of wisconsin and should not be weakened by Federal law. If these bankers wish to contact exclients let the people call them direct or use the US Post Office, they must have some records.

This is a matter of a few people trying to over turn the views of the majority.